CONTRIBUTOR AGREEMENT

1. Purpose and Relationship to the Terms of Service

This document is a concise Contributor-facing summary of the Contributor rules contained in the NÖRGRU Terms of Service. It is intended to make the relevant commercial and operational terms easier to understand without requiring a Contributor to read the entire TOS first.

Unless a separate written Contributor Agreement expressly states otherwise, the NÖRGRU Terms of Service remain the governing document. This summary does not replace the TOS and should be read together with it.

2. Intellectual Property Ownership

2.1 Product Editions

Contributor Digital Content may be classified as Level 1 — Visual, Level 2 — Technical, or Level 3 — Manufacturing. A Contributor may create Level 1 or Level 2 content without being an engineer or manufacturing specialist; the classification describes the delivered content and rights, not the Contributor's professional title.

2.2 Strategic and Manufacturing Content

Where Contributor-owned material is designated Strategic IP or proposed for a Level 3 Manufacturing transaction, NÖRGRU may require additional written authorization before negotiating or granting manufacturing rights. Ownership remains with the Contributor unless a separate written agreement states otherwise.

The Contributor retains 100% ownership of the Contributor’s original intellectual property. Listing or distributing Digital Content through NÖRGRU does not transfer ownership to NÖRGRU.

The Contributor grants NÖRGRU a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free license to host, display, promote, market, distribute, and sell the approved Digital Content on the Contributor’s behalf.

3. Revenue Share

Unless separately agreed in writing, sales of Contributor Digital Content are allocated 60% to the Contributor and 40% to NÖRGRU.

The Contributor share is intended to be calculated from the published sale price before ordinary platform/payment-processing fees. NÖRGRU ordinarily bears such ordinary fees from its 40% share, subject to the practical constraints of payment providers, refunds, chargebacks, holds, verification, and applicable law.

4. Contributor Independence and Workload

There is no mandatory number of hours, fixed production schedule, quota, or deadline for ordinary Contributor activity. Contributors retain creative independence.

Participation nevertheless requires professional conduct, reasonable quality, technical integrity, and alignment with NÖRGRU's curated creative and technological identity. NÖRGRU does not guarantee sales.

5. Submission and Quality Review

Submission does not guarantee publication. NÖRGRU may approve, reject, request revisions, suspend, delist, or permanently remove Digital Content based on technical, visual, legal, commercial, security, compatibility, quality, or brand considerations.

Employee status or previous Contributor success does not exempt a submission from review.

6. Delisting and Removal

A Contributor may request modification or complete delisting of their Digital Content. NÖRGRU will remove the asset from public sale within five business days where reasonably practicable and will delete its own operational/archive copies where appropriate.

Existing Customer licenses remain valid and are not retroactively revoked merely because the asset is removed.

7. Independent Sales and Pricing

Contributors may independently sell their own work elsewhere because the NÖRGRU distribution arrangement is not automatically exclusive to the Contributor.

Contributors should not intentionally sell substantially identical Digital Content elsewhere at a materially or excessively inconsistent price compared with the price agreed and published through NÖRGRU, unless the difference is approved or objectively explained by different licensing, packaging, promotional, tax, platform, or commercial conditions.

NÖRGRU may first discuss a significant discrepancy with the Contributor. Persistent intentional underpricing, deceptive pricing, bad faith, or deliberate undermining of NÖRGRU's commercial framework may constitute grounds for suspension or termination, subject to applicable law.

8. Distribution Infrastructure

8.1 Level 1 and Level 2 Delivery

Level 1 and Level 2 products may ordinarily be distributed through Payhip or another designated digital delivery provider.

8.2 Level 3 Controlled Delivery

Level 3 Manufacturing Content may be excluded from ordinary automated checkout and delivered through a controlled NÖRGRU portal or other secure method under a separate Manufacturing License.

NÖRGRU currently uses Payhip and may transition to its own marketplace or another provider, including payment-splitting and cloud infrastructure. Such migration does not by itself transfer ownership or change established revenue-sharing rights or existing Customer licenses.

NÖRGRU will not independently list Contributor Digital Content on unrelated third-party marketplaces for sales without prior knowledge and consent unless separately agreed.

9. NÖRGRU Assistant

Authorized Contributors may receive access to NÖRGRU Assistant, an internal dashboard containing resources such as sales statistics, Contributor revenue information, tutorials, books, tools, documentation, internal assets, announcements, and other internal material.

Access may be content-based. For example, approximately twelve approved models may be used as a progression threshold, although NÖRGRU may change the threshold. Removing an approved asset that contributed to progression may reduce the Contributor's progression level.

10. Confidentiality

10.1 Strategic IP and Manufacturing Confidentiality

Confidential material may include unreleased inventions, engineering concepts, CAD packages, drawings, manufacturing information, technical specifications, research, prototypes, project negotiations, client identities, license terms, and Level 3 portal information.

NÖRGRU may require a separate NDA or other confidentiality instrument. Internal dashboard data, sales information, revenue information, unreleased products, technical systems, business plans, pricing discussions, marketing plans, future projects, and non-public member/customer/company information may be confidential.

Unauthorized disclosure may result in suspension, exclusion, termination, and other lawful remedies.

11. Benefits and Development Support

NÖRGRU may, at its discretion, pay for or provide software licenses, subscriptions, tools, educational resources, or Digital Content for Contributors or Employees. Such benefits are discretionary, are not automatic compensation, and remain subject to third-party license terms.

12. Ending Participation

A Contributor may end participation at any time. For an active Contributor who has previously submitted an approved product, prolonged inactivity may result in notice and termination of active status unless serious security, legal, confidentiality, fraud, or misconduct reasons justify immediate action.

A person who only expresses interest but never completes onboarding, required payment infrastructure setup, or submits an approved product may be removed from the prospective participant pool without notice.

13. Governing Document

13.1 Manufacturing Transactions

The ordinary 60/40 marketplace revenue split does not automatically determine the economics of a separately negotiated Level 3 Manufacturing transaction. A Contributor-owned Strategic IP transaction may require a separate written agreement defining ownership, authority, revenue participation, royalties, fees, support, exclusivity, and other terms.

By participating as a Contributor, the Contributor agrees to comply with the NÖRGRU Terms of Service, applicable product and platform rules, and any separate written agreements, including an NDA where required.

Where a separate signed agreement expressly governs a particular matter, that agreement controls to the extent of a conflict concerning that matter.

13A. NÖRGRU-OWNED PRODUCTS AND EXTERNAL PLATFORMS

NÖRGRU may independently create, own, commission, publish, and sell NÖRGRU-Owned Content, including 3D assets, applications, software, plugins, Unreal Engine assets, Blender scenes, props, environments, technical products, and other Digital Content, through NÖRGRU or External Distribution Platforms such as Gumroad, ArtStation, SuperHive, or other platforms selected by NÖRGRU.

Contributor-Owned Content remains subject to the Contributor's ownership and the distribution authority granted under this Agreement. NÖRGRU does not obtain ownership merely because it distributes or markets a Contributor's product.
